Dear Amy Rusko,

I am writing to express my deep concern regarding a letter I received in our mail about a proposal to establish a hot dip galvanizing processing plant right outside of our Glen Eagle neighborhood. It sounds like the galvanization process produces toxic fumes and inhalation of these fumes can create long-term health problems, including but not limited to cancer. There are many families with young children residing in the Glen Eagle neighborhood so the proximity to our neighborhood is alarming. Please let me know if there is another avenue to express my concern or if there are other steps I (and my community) need to take to stop this action from happening.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Crystal Williams
