Kathryn,

The city cannot control who buys property, when they purchase it, and what they advertise online. I can tell you that the public hearing and appeal process are required to be followed prior to approval or denial of the permit application. All comments received have been sent to the Hearing Examiner for review and consideration at the public hearing.

Sincerely,
Amy Rusko

Hi Amy,

I noticed that Seattle Galvanizing is advertising the opening of its facility on 67th on their web page.

They have purchased the property before the approval process, and are now planning to go forward. Seems a bit out of order.

I hope the community's comments will have some value in the decision process.

Kathryn.
