I have lived in the Sisco Hights area of Arlington for 20 years know. I would love to see it stay rural 5 but understand population needs. What is frustrating is what seems to be a lack of planing ahead and building infrastructure such as more and better access to Highway 9 and I5.
The amount of accidents such as cars in ditches and or hitting fences on our country roads is only going to increase without work. I can't imagine adding hundreds more cars on the back roads without improvements, there will just be more accidents and or fatalities.
