Hi Amy,

I recently saw a Facebook post regarding the proposed Arlington Garden Apartments and wanted to share my thoughts. My thoughts are simple. Stop the madness. Why are all small-town governments the same? All they seem to care about is increasing the tax base. But where is the infrastructure to support this? The roads are too small, the schools are too full, there aren't enough grocery stores, etc. It's just housing, housing, housing. This is destroying the character of Arlington, and i know everyone in the local government knows it.

If current taxes aren't enough to provide the infrastructure first, then that just means they aren't being properly allocated and spent. This is one of the wealthiest states in the union and there is simply no excuse. Its just a money grab plain and simple.

Please help stop the madness and stop this project. Protect Arlington's small town feel by growing the population properly, slowly over time, with the proper infrastructure first, and with a healthy mix of single-family homes as well as multi-unit apartments. Right now it's clear that Arlington and Marysville only care about $$ and it's a damn shame.
